Requirements vary according to undergraduate school. Distribution of courses rather than specific courses is required. Tests used for counseling, placement, or credit: Placement, credit, or both may be given for grades of 3 and higher in Advanced Placement Examinations. Credit will generally be given on basis of CLEP Subject Examinations (subject to evaluation by school and department concerned). Maximum of 24 semester hours of credit by examination may be counted toward degree in the undergraduate school of nursing. No maximum in the undergraduate management school or liberal arts school. Academic regulations: Academic regulations vary among the undergraduate schools. Graduate programs: Biological sciences, business and commerce, computer science and systems analysis, English and journalism, fine and applied arts, foreign language and literature, geography, mathematics, philosophy, physical sciences, psychology, social sciences.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 3,819 men applied, 1,275 were accepted; 4,138 women applied, 1,566 were accepted. Admissions requirements: New York State Regents Scholarship and College Qualification Test for New York State residents. SAT or ACT required for out-of-state freshman applicants. High school English 4 units, social studies 2, foreign language 3 units of one (or 2 units each of 2 languages), mathematics 2½, science 2. Chemistry (for nursing applicants) 1, foreign language (School of Business) 2, no foreign language for School of Nursing. The foreign language requirement can be met after enrollment. Interview recommended. Basis for selection: The admissions decision is based on high school average, rank in class, the New York State Regents Scholarship and College Qualification Test (SAT or ACT for out-of-state applicants), plus personal information supplied on supplementary data form. The competition for each year depends on the quantity and quality of applications for that particular year. Talented students are given special consideration. Also, there is a Special Admissions Program for culturally and economically deprived students. Middle 50% of applicants accepted for admission had SAT-verbal scores between 600 and 699 and SAT-mathematical scores between 600 and 699. Application fee: $5, may be waived for applicants with financial need. Application procedures: Closing date for applications February 15 to April 15, applicants notified of decisions starting February 15, accepted applicants must reply May 1 or within 30 days, whichever is later. CRDA. Transfer applicants: About 2,300 apply annually, and 350-700 are accepted. Apply by April 1 (may be later at times) for fall term. Other requirements and procedures: high school transcript, college transcript, and recommendations from dean of students office (A-5 form). Require minimum grade-point average of 2.7 on 4.0 scale. Credits earned in generally theoretical courses with a grade of C or higher are normally accepted.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 458 men, 515 women. 97% from New York, 88% live on campus, 12% commute. Middle 50% of enrolled freshmen have SAT-verbal scores between 600 and 699 and SAT-mathematical scores between 600 and 699. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 95.9%, business 2.7%, nursing 1.4%. Postgraduate studies: 58% of graduates enter graduate or professional programs. Student activities: Student government, student newspaper, magazine, yearbook, radio, television, religious organizations, drama, dance, college orchestra, wind ensemble, Harpur Choral, jazz workshop, large and small chamber ensembles, political organizations, ethnic organizations, social service organizations, social clubs. Athletics: Archery-M, baseball-M, basketball, billiards, bowling-W, cross-country-M, fencing-M, field hockey-W, football-M, golf-M, gymnastics-M, handball-M, lacrosse-M, soccer-M, softball, squash-M, swimming and diving, tennis, track and field-M, volleyball, wrestling-M. Student services: Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni, psychological services, drug counseling, academic advising. Regulations: Social regulations are primarily left up to the individual student. At this time, any student may have a car on campus. Any student may live off campus, if he so desires (if a freshman is under 18, he must have parental permission). Hall councils establish rules within individual residence halls.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $785. Room and board: $1,205. Other expenses: $400-$600.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP, nursing loans and scholarships. 250 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need, 250 of these were offered aid, all were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: Most of the financial aid offered through the financial aids office is based on need. The Educational Opportunity Program also provides financial assistance for students from economically and culturally deprived situations. Application procedures: Closing date for applications March 15, applicants notified of decisions usually after May 1, recipients of aid offers must reply by July 15. PCS and college application required. Transfer students: Follow the same procedure as freshmen.

Credit will generally be given on basis of CLEP General and Subject Examinations. Academic regulations: Freshmen must maintain a C (2.0) grade-point average to remain in good standing. Graduate programs: Architecture, biological sciences, business and commerce, Classics, computer science and systems analysis, education, engineering, English and journalism, fine and applied arts, foreign language and literature, geography, health professions, law, library science, mathematics, philosophy, physical sciences, psychology, social sciences. Additional information: Students may construct their own degree programs through the Division of Undergraduate Studies (ad hoc major).

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 5,330 men applied, 2,481 were accepted; 3,882 women applied, 1,920 women were accepted. Admissions requirements: ACT or SAT by January, senior year. New York State Regents Scholarship and College Qualification Test for New York State residents. Applicants from schools where no marks or class rank are given should submit results of ACH. High school English 4 units, social studies 2, foreign language 2, mathematics 2, science 2. (These units are suggested as minimum preparation for the liberal arts majors.) Basis for selection: Applicants are ranked on the basis of high school average, rank in class, and standardized test scores. Cutoff points are determined by the applicant–space availability ratio. Middle 50% of applicants accepted for admission had SAT-verbal scores between 525 and 640 and SAT-mathematical scores between 600 and 700. Application fee: $5, may be waived for applicants with financial need. Application procedures: Closing date for applications February 1, applicants notified of decisions March 15, accepted applicants must reply within 30 days or May 1. CRDA. Transfer applicants: About 3,700 apply annually, and 1,300 are accepted. Apply by March 15 for fall term. Other requirements and procedures: applicants must have completed at least 1 semester of work before they are eligible for transfer. An average of C or better will be considered; space limitations may require a higher average for admission. Additional information: New York State residents should secure State University application forms from their high school.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 1,025 men, 723 women. 98% from New York, 50% live on campus, 50% commute, 20% from minority backgrounds. Middle 50% of enrolled freshmen have SAT-verbal scores between 525 and 640 and SAT-mathematical scores between 600 and 700. 80% of the class ranked in the top 16% of their high school class. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 40%, engineering 10%, education 3%, business 10%, fine arts 2%, health services 10%, general freshman program 25%. Student activities: Student government, student newspaper, magazine, yearbook, radio, television, religious organizations, drama, opera, musical theater, dance, symphony orchestra, concert band, political organizations, ethnic organizations, social service organizations, fraternities, sororities. Athletics: Archery, baseball-M, basketball, bowling, cross-country-M, fencing, field hockey-W, football-M, golf, gymnastics, handball-M, ice hockey-M, lacrosse-M, rowing (crew)-M, rugby-M, skiing, soccer-M, softball, squash-M, swimming and diving, tennis, track and field-M, water polo, wrestling-M. Student services: Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni. Regulations: Freshmen must live in dormitories or at home. Additional information: Academic and living experiences can be combined through registration in one of the colleges of the collegiate assembly.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $550; out-of-state students $900. Room and board: $1,158. Other expenses: $400.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP, grants and loans in the health professions and nursing, Law Enforcement Education Program. Basis for selection: Financial aid is awarded on the basis of student need; the need of out-of-state students would be higher than that of state residents due to the fact that their tuition is higher. Students who are accepted into the special programs for minority groups are considered for funding specifically designated for these groups (made on the basis of need). Application procedures: Closing date for applications February 1, applicants notified of decisions in the spring and summer, recipients of aid offers must reply within 3 weeks from date of award notice. PCS and university form required. Transfer students: Transfer students must apply for assistance by the deadline date established for upperclass students – March 1.

State University of New York College at Old Westbury Old Westbury, New York

Four-year public liberal arts college for men and women. Undergraduates: 268 men, 289 women. Calendar: Semester. Location: Suburban community 25 miles from New York City. Special features: In September, 1970, a planning staff of 20 from a variety of schools, colleges, and universities came together to design a new college for the State University of New York at Old Westbury. The foundation for the new college rests on a double mandate from the Board of Trustees of The State University of New York: first, to design new programs in higher education, new ways to teach and learn, some significant alternatives to the lock-step march from one semester to another for 4 years; and second, to focus the college's resources and organize the curriculum around the theme of human justice.

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Bachelor. Fields of study: Architecture (urban development), art (art history, studio art), biological sciences (biology), communications (film, television), education (child development and nursery, music), English and literature (creative writing, English, literature), ethnic studies (black or Afro-American, Spanish-American), foreign languages (Spanish), health and medical professions (nursing–registered), history and cultures (American, area and regional), home economics (infant and child care), mathematics, music (composition and theory, instrumental music, music history), philosophy and religion (philosophy, scholastic philosophy), physical sciences (chemistry), psychology (general), social sciences (economics, political science, social work, sociology), theater arts (dance). Special programs: Cooperative education, independent study, study abroad. Programs for students from minorities or low-income families: Special counselor, tutoring, remedial instruction, reduced course load, a total campus-wide support system, Educational Opportunity Program. Required freshman courses: Field studies and communication skills are required of all students. Tests used for counseling, placement, or credit: Placement, credit, or both will generally be given for grades of 3 and higher in Advanced Placement Examinations. Credit will generally be given on basis of CLEP Subject Examinations. Additional information: In 1971-72, the college offered major programs in American studies; comparative history, ideas, and cultures; and politics, economics, and society. A major program in science and technology may be added, as the college's faculty and resources allow for its planning and formal approval next year. These interdisciplinary programs should give students unusual flexibility in concentrating on areas of their special interests and should at the same time prepare them for graduate programs and other vocational and professional careers. With approval from academic advisors and the Academic Policy Committee, students may construct majors of their own that combine parts of already existing programs and that add new elements. Complementing these degree programs are preprofessional and professional degree programs, selected because they provide both undergraduate career training and areas of study involving a broad range of social issues. In 1971-72, the college began a health sciences program which prepares students for certification at various levels in a number of health care professions. A major aim of the program is to examine the health care delivery systems and the needs of local communities. Students in the health sciences program are encouraged to supplement their work with a coherent course of study drawn from either the American studies or politics, economics, and society programs. The program has the cooperation of the new Health Sciences Center at Stony Brook, where clinical training will be centered. A second such program that will prepare students for careers and professional service in education is in active planning for a possible 1972-73 introduction.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 268 men were accepted; 289 women were accepted. Admissions requirements: High school diploma or high school equivalency certificate. Interview recommended. Basis for selection: The College at Old Westbury is a very young college for mature people – especially those people who have been bypassed by most of the access routes to higher education. The college does not use test scores or class rank in admission decisions. Rather, it recruits people whose backgrounds of employment, community service, military service, travel, and experience constitute a resource not measured by those indices. Procedurally, the college invites prospective students to information sessions in which the nature of the college is disclosed as fully as possible. Applicants are admitted by means of a lottery system which gives bonus points weighted in favor of students who are normally handicapped in the competitive academic market place. Hence the student population reflects the open admissions models: 60% of the students are nonwhite, 70% are receiving financial assistance, 80% are residents of the immediate environs of Nassau and Suffolk Counties and the Brooklyn and Queens Boroughs of New York City. Application fee: Approximately $15, determined by State University of New York. Application procedures: Closing date for applications April 1, applicants notified of decisions June 1, accepted applicants must reply within 30 days. Transfer applicants: Apply by May 1 for fall term. Other requirements and procedures: no limit on number of credits accepted, but most students should expect to spend 2 years at Old Westbury. Entering students should expect to receive an evaluation of any academic work previously completed satisfactorily at other colleges and institutions, including the possibility of recognition for courses in nonacademic programs. Any courses an entering student may have taken in his or her past experience, regardless of the length of elapsed time, are eligible for evaluation. The college is committed to recognizing various life experiences of an educational quality related to its academic program. Certain kinds of employment, tasks, or situations have a complexity and texture that encourage the development of skills essential to education. Not all life experience is this sort, and not all persons who have been involved in educationally rich experiences have actually developed such skills.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 150 men, 150 women. 80% from New York, 70% live on campus, 30% commute, 60% from minority backgrounds. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 65%, education 10%, fine arts 5%, health services 20%. Student activities: Student government (a tripartite unicameral assembly made up of students, faculty, and administrators governs the college), student newspaper, magazine, television, film, drama, dance, jazz ensemble. Athletics: Basketball-M, bowling. Athletic and recreational programs have not yet been developed. Student services: Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni. Regulations: Few, if any, new commuting students will be admitted in 1972-73. However, in 1973-74, less emphasis should be placed upon residential requirements.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $650; out-of-state students $1,000. Room and board: Approximately $1,300. Other expenses: $767.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants (limited), NDSL, EOG, CWSP. 258 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need, 200 of these were offered aid, 100 were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: There is a college-wide commitment to those normally bypassed by higher education and to minority students. The college has the educational support of the State University system which has approved and supported the college's academic goals. Priority is given to students with financial need. Application procedures: Closing date for applications May 1, applicants notified of decisions July 1, recipients of aid offers must reply within 2 weeks of receiving award notification. PCS required. SFS available at the college for older married students after interview with financial aid officer. Transfer students: Priority is given to enrolled and freshman students. Transfer students should apply by mid-semester of semester preceding anticipated enrollment. Transfers will be considered, but resources are very limited.

State University of New York College of Arts and Science at Cortland, Cortland, New York

Four-year public college of arts and science for men and women. Undergraduates: 1,768 men, 2,339 women. Graduates: 478 men, 646 women. Calendar: Semester, summer session. Location: Suburban community 200 miles from New York City. Special features: The college is located on the eastern edge of New York State's Finger Lakes country. The hilltop campus, comprising 140 acres, is close to the heart of the city of Cortland. The city is located midway between Syracuse and Binghamton on north-south Interstate Highway 81 which links the New York State Thruway to the north and New York 17 to the south. Ithaca is just 22 miles distant on Route 13. Regularly scheduled and charter buses serve both students and the Cortland community. Cortland County maintains an airport just outside the city to serve private and chartered aircraft.

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Bachelor. Fields of study: Art (art history, studio art), biological sciences (biology, botany, ecology, zoology), education (child development and nursery education, elementary, general, health, physical, recreation, secondary, speech and hearing), English and literature (creative writing, English, literature, speech), ethnic studies (black or Afro-American), foreign languages (French, German, linguistics, Russian, Spanish), geography, health and medical professions (health and safety), history and cultures (American, ancient, area and regional, European), mathematics (statistics), music (composition and theory, instrumental music, music history, voice), philosophy and religion (philosophy), physical sciences (chemistry, earth science, geology, physical sciences, physics), psychology (child, experimental, general, social), social sciences (anthropology, economics, police science, sociology), theater arts (dance, drama, theater arts). Special programs: Accelerated program, honors program, independent study, study abroad (1 or 2 semesters in Switzerland, Spain, England, Germany, and Ireland). Programs for students from minorities or low-income families: Special counselor, preadmission summer program, tutoring, remedial instruction, reduced course load. Required freshman courses: English composition, history, physical education, science. Tests used for counseling, placement, or credit: Placement, credit, or both will generally be given for grades of 3 and higher in Advanced Placement Examinations. Credit will generally be given on basis of CLEP General and Subject Examinations by department chairman and appropriate dean based upon individual student's situation. CGP to be taken by December 1. CPP to be taken by December 1. Maximum of 15 semester hours of credit by examination may be counted toward degree. ACT used for counseling, placement, or credit. Academic regulations: 1.85 at end of freshman year automatically on probation. 90% of freshman class now complete freshman year in good academic standing. Graduate programs: Biological sciences; education; English and journalism; fine and applied arts; foreign language and literature; geography; health, physical education, and recreation; mathematics; physical sciences; psychology; social sciences. Additional information: At present the college has a 2-year academic residence requirement. In order for a student to be awarded a bachelor's degree the student must take 64 credits.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 3,300 men applied, 1,040 were accepted; 4,350 women applied, 1,140 were accepted. Admissions requirements: ACT or SAT by December 1. New York State Regents Scholarship and College Qualification Test for New York State residents by October 14. Under National Collegiate Athletic Association rule all freshman male applicants who desire to participate in intercollegiate athletics must submit SAT scores. A strong secondary school college preparatory program is recommended for all freshman applicants. Interview recommended. Basis for selection: Applicants for regular admissions are admitted to the college rather than to a specific division or major program, without regard to race, color, creed, or national origin. The college seeks young men and women who have the capacity for intellectual growth and the motivation to achieve as indicated by above average academic success at their secondary school. Middle 50% of applicants accepted for admission had SAT-verbal scores between 450 and 500 and SAT-mathematical scores between 475 and 525. Application fee: $5, may be waived for applicants with financial need. Application procedures: Closing date for applications January 15. Applicants notified of decisions February 15 to March 15, accepted applicants must reply within 2 weeks of the time they receive their certificate of admission. Transfer applicants: About 3,000 apply annually, and 450 are accepted. Apply by April 1 for fall term. Other requirements and procedures: college follows the State University of New York Master Plan and therefore gives preference to qualified graduates of State University of New York 2-year colleges who have successfully pursued the associate degree. The majority of transfer students enroll at the college as juniors. Additional information: The applicant's predicted grade-point average in college is particularly important. This is determined on the basis of one of two sets of formulas: the high school average and the scores on the verbal and mathematics sections of the SAT, or the high school average, rank in class, and the results of the New York State Regents Scholarship and College Qualification Test. Both formulas are used in assessing the records of each applicant, with the formula showing the higher predicted grade-point average the one that is used in making the final decision. Studies done by the admissions office indicate that the high school average is the most important predictor of academic success at Cortland.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 450 men, 450 women. 95% from New York, 65% live on campus, 5% commute, 10% from minority backgrounds. Middle 50% of enrolled freshmen have SAT-verbal scores between 500 and 550 and SAT-mathematical scores between 525 and 600. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 50%; education 25%; health, physical education, and recreation 25%. Postgraduate studies: 75% of graduates enter graduate or professional programs. Student activities: Student government, student newspaper, magazine, yearbook, radio, religious organizations, drama, musical theater, dance, symphony orchestra, concert band, political organizations, ethnic organizations, social service organizations, fraternities, sororities. Athletics: Archery, baseball, basketball, bowling, cross-country, field hockey-W, football-M, golf-M, gymnastics, horseshoes, lacrosse-M, paddleball-M, rugby-M, skiing-M, soccer-M, softball, swimming and diving, tennis, track and field, wrestling-M. Student services: Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni. Regulations: All new students (freshmen and transfers) except commuters must live in dormitories for 6 months; 24-hour visitation in coeducational dormitories. Upper classmen and commuters are allowed to have cars on campus. Additional information: The college is residential; 65% of undergraduates live on campus. Along with the 14 intercollegiate teams, students have the opportunity of participating in over 65 other clubs and intramural activities as well as cultural and social activities.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $645; out-of-state students $995. Room and board: $1,200. Other expenses (including travel): $500.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP. 753 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need, 168 were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: Financial need as indicated by the PCS with special consideration given to applicants from minorities or poverty-level income groups. Application procedures: Closing date for applications March 15, applicants notified of decisions as quickly as possible, recipients of aid offers must reply May 1. PCS required. Transfer students: Same as for freshmen.

State University of New York College of Arts and Science at Potsdam, Potsdam, New York

Four-year public college of arts and science for men and women. Undergraduates: 1,469 men, 2,700 women. Graduates: 268 men, 432 women. Calendar: Semester with 5-week break between semesters, summer session. Location: Small town 100 miles from Montreal, Canada. Special features: College is a member of Associated Colleges of the St. Lawrence Valley consisting of, in addition to Potsdam, State University of New York Agricultural and Technical College at Canton, St. Lawrence University, and Clarkson College of Technology. This permits cross-indexing of libraries and cross-registration in courses.

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Bachelor. Fields of study: Art (art history, painting, pottery, sculpture, studio art), biological sciences (biology), computer science and systems analysis, education (elementary, music, secondary), English and literature (English), foreign languages (French, German, Latin, Spanish), geography, health and medical professions (medical technology), history and cultures, mathematics, music (church music, composition and theory, music history, music performance), philosophy and religion (philosophy), physical sciences (chemistry, geology, physics), psychology, social sciences (anthropology, economics, political science, sociology), theater arts (drama). Special programs: Cooperative education, honors program, independent study, study abroad (Spanish at University of Madrid, Spain, French majors in Tours, France), master's degree in mathematics in 4 years. Programs for students from minorities or low-income families: Tutoring, reduced course load. Military training: Army ROTC at Clarkson College. Required freshman courses: Physical education. Tests used for counseling, placement, or credit: Placement, credit, or both will generally be given for grades of 3 and higher in Advanced Placement Examinations. Credit will generally be given on basis of CLEP General Examinations. Academic regulations: Freshman must achieve 2.00 index to maintain good standing. In recent years less than 4% of freshmen have been dropped for academic reasons. Graduate programs: Biological sciences, education, English and journalism, foreign language and literature, mathematics, music, physical sciences, social sciences. Additional information: Approximately 60% of graduates have completed requirements for teaching certificates, but education is not offered as an academic major. Students use elective area to meet certification requirements.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 1,721 men applied, 638 were accepted; 2,272 women applied, 1,069 were accepted. Admissions requirements: ACT by December of senior year or SAT by January of senior year. New York State Regents Scholarship and College Qualification Test. Candidates may take any 1 of the 3 tests listed. A minimum of 16 high school academic units is required of all candidates. Interview required. Basis for selection: Of greatest importance in the admissions decision is the secondary school record, followed by test scores, and interviewer and school counselor evaluations. For music and art candidates, audition results and portfolio evaulations, respectively, are most important. Educational Opportunity Program applicants are evaluated primarily on the basis of the interview and counselor's statement. Middle 50% of applicants accepted for admission had SAT-verbal scores between 465 and 586 and SAT-mathematical scores between 518 and 624. Application fee: $5. Application procedures: Closing date for applications January 15 recommended, applicants notified of decisions February 15, accepted applicants must reply within 15 days. Transfer applicants: About 1,100 apply annually, and 600 are accepted. Apply by January 15 for fall term. Other requirements and procedures: transfer candidates may present 18 semester hours of successful liberal studies work in place of minimum high school units. They are admitted on the basis of the college transcript, and seldom lose any academic credit unless pursuing a teacher education program. Additional information: Applicants for admission to music or art curriculums are required respectively to appear for the music audition or submit a portfolio of their work. Accepted applicants notify the college within 15 days of their intent to accept the offer of admission, but are not required to make deposits prior to May 1.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 337 men, 611 women. 98% from New York, 96% live on campus, 4% commute, 2.3% from minority backgrounds. Middle 50% of enrolled freshmen have SAT-verbal scores between 463 and 570 and SAT-mathematical scores between 517 and 623. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 80%, fine arts 20%. Postgraduate studies: 10% of graduates enter graduate or professional programs. Student activities: Student government (including active dormitory councils), student newspaper, magazine, yearbook, radio, television, film, Newman Club, Intervarsity Christian Fellowship, Christian Science Group, Wesley Foundation, Jewish Youth Fellowship, drama, opera, musical theater, dance, symphony orchestra, concert band, chorus, small ensembles, Young Democrats, Afro-American Society, social service organizations (Prometheus), fraternities, sororities. Athletics: Badminton, baseball-M, basketball, bowling, cross-country-M, field hockey-W, football-M, golf, handball, ice hockey-M, soccer-M, softball-M, squash, swimming and diving, table tennis, tennis, track and field-M, volleyball, weight lifting-M, wrestling-M. Student services: Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni, off-campus housing lists. Regulations: Students residing in college residence hall must participate in one of the available boarding plans. Additional information: Music plays an important part in campus life. 20 performing organizations exist, and approximately 125 concerts are given in a typical calendar year.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $600; out-of-state students $950. Room and board: $1,150.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, jobs, NDSL, EOG, CWSP. 300 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need, 200 of these were offered aid, 140 were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: Aid is based on need; those with greatest need receive priority. Educational Opportunity Program is a special program of full assistance for students who are both educationally and economically disadvantaged. The program enrolled 45 students in 1971-72. Application procedures: Closing date for applications March 1, applicants notified of decisions by July. PCS required. Transfer students: Students receiving EOG funds must have college certify that fact.

CORRESPONDENCE. John H. Letarte, Director of Admissions, Francis G. Healey, Director of Student Financial Aid, State University of New York College of Arts and Science at Potsdam, Potsdam, New York 13676.

State University of New York College of Arts and Science at Purchase, Purchase, New York

Four-year public college of letters and science and school of the arts for men and women. Undergraduates: (all transfer students admitted when College of Letters and Sciences opened in September 1971) 79 men, 97 women. Calendar: Semester. Each semester has 1 long term of 12 weeks and one short term of 4 weeks' duration. Location: Suburban community 30 miles from New York City. Special features: The college includes a College of Letters and Science and a School of the Arts (dance, music, theater arts, and visual arts). Students in either may cross-register in certain courses, although the School of the Arts is primarily for professional students who are admitted on the basis of auditions or portfolio. Students proceed at their own pace toward a degree, on the basis of individually planned programs that include wide latitude for independent study. Grading is replaced by an honors–passing–no credit system, with written evaluations to accompany each rating.

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Bachelor. Fields of study: Art (art history, design, graphic design, photography, print making, painting, sculpture), biological sciences (biology, ecology, physiology, zoology, environmental science), communications (film, television), English and literature (English, literature, comparative literature), foreign languages (French, German, Spanish), history and cultures (American, area and regional, European), mathematics (statistics), music (composition and theory, instrumental music, voice), philosophy and religion (philosophy), physical sciences (chemistry, earth science, geology, physical sciences, physics), psychology (child, experimental, general, social), social sciences (anthropology, economics, political science, sociology, urban studies), theater arts (modern dance, ballet, drama, theater arts including film and television). Special programs: Accelerated program, independent study, study abroad (independently or through other State University programs if approved beforehand by college), individual interdisciplinary programs. Programs for students from minorities or low-income families: Tutoring, reduced course load, Educational Opportunity Program, 2-year lower-division program for disadvantaged students at Mt. Vernon Cooperative College Center, as well as a program for part-time and precollege students at the Cooperative College Center of Westchester at Yonkers, New York. Required freshman courses: Freshmen are expected to participate in an interdisciplinary cluster of 3 courses–seminars focused on a common contemporary theme or problem. Tests used for counseling, placement, or credit: Placement, credit, or both will generally be given for grades of 4 and higher in Advanced Placement Examinations. Credit will possibly be given on basis of CLEP Subject Examinations. New York State College Proficiency Examinations may count towards 120 credit equivalencies essential to the bachelor's degree. Academic regulations: First freshmen arrived in September 1972. Additional information: The curriculum has been designed to allow students to proceed at their own pace, with the possibility of their doing a good deal of independent and tutorial work in areas of their interest. To qualify for the degree, they must satisfactorily complete the freshman year cluster curriculum, use the following years to gather an adequate amount of credit equivalencies and to prepare for an examination in their area of concentration before they begin their final or baccalaureate year, during which they must satisfactorily complete a senior thesis or project.

ADMISSIONS. The projected enrollment for September 1972 was 900, of whom 500 would be freshmen and 200 would be transfers after a year or more elsewhere. Of these 700 new students approximately 180 were to be admitted to the School of the Arts opening for the first time in 1972 despite the fact that not all instructional facilities in the arts were to be completed by that time. Their admission depended on audition or, in the case of students in the visual arts, on submission of portfolios. Admissions requirements: It is recommended that applicants take the SAT and ACH if possible, but they are not required. High school English 4 units, social studies 2, foreign language 2, mathematics 2, science 2, electives 4. Interview and audition required for applicants to School of the Arts. Interview recommended for applicants to College of Letters and Science. Basis for selection: The admissions process seeks to select those students for admission who are self-directed, mature, well-motivated, and both capable and desirous of undertaking a large amount of independent study. With this end in mind, the college asks each applicant to write a personal statement and recommends an interview at the college if at all possible. Without ignoring test scores, prior school achievement record, and recommendations, it will thus be possible to admit some students of high potential who might not otherwise be admitted. No specified grade-point average or special status precludes careful consideration by the admissions committee. All faculty members are involved in reading applications for admission. Arts applicants must submit portfolio or be auditioned. Application fee: $5, may be waived for applicants with financial need. Subject to increase. Application procedures: Closing date for applications January 15, applicants notified of decisions April 1, accepted applicants must reply May 1. CRDA. Transfer applicants: Apply by March 1 for fall term. Other requirements and procedures: same as freshman requirements and procedures, except that transfers must supply a separate transcript from each post-secondary institution attended. Credit is given for work satisfactorily completed elsewhere in appropriate areas of study. However, transfers should understand that graduation does not depend solely on credits accumulated but also upon satisfactory completion of the baccalaureate year.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 225 men, 275 women. 90% from New York, 75% live on campus, 25% commute, 20% from minority backgrounds. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 80%, fine arts 20%. Student activities: Student government, student newspaper, film, performing arts. In general, student activities are encouraged and as the student population grows, many additional activities will be developed. Athletics: Many organized sports will be available upon completion of gymnasium and the hiring of a director of physical education. Student services: Counseling, faculty adviser for each student, health services, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni. Regulations: Campus rules are limited to basic regulations for the protection of persons, property, and the educational process. The college does not attempt to be in loco parentis. Additional information: Students share in the overall governance of the college through a college assembly. The tone of campus life is informal and open to innovation.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $645 ($550 tuition, $25 college fee, $70 activities fee); out-of-state students $995 ($900 tuition). Room and board: $1,180. Other expenses: $650 for art supplies and books.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs, tuition waiver. NDSL, EOG, CWSP. Basis for selection: Financial aid decisions made separately from admissions decisions, taking both need and academic qualifications into account. As far as financial aid funds allow, special consideration is given to qualified applicants from poverty-level income groups, and the college continues to aid those students who enter as transfers from the Mount Vernon lower-division program for the educationally and economically disadvantaged. Application procedures: Closing date for applications March 1, applicants notified of decisions April 1, recipients of aid offers must reply May 1. PCS required. Transfer students: Requirements and procedures are the same for transfers as for freshmen.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 2,166 men applied, 349 were accepted. Admissions requirements: SAT and ACH (English Composition and Mathematics Level I or Level II) by January of senior year. High school English 3 units, mathematics 3, science 1, unspecified subjects 8. Above requirement in mathematics and science is minimal. It is recommended that all candidates have 4 units of mathematics and both physics and chemistry. Basis for selection: Candidates must be nominated by congressman or senator, and are then selected competitively in accordance with state quotas. Each state has quota proportionate to state's representation in Congress. Candidate's competitive ranking is based upon performance on the required College Board tests, high school class rank, and leadership potential. Middle 50% of applicants accepted for admission had SAT-verbal scores between 500 and 550 and SAT-mathematical scores between 550 and 600. Application fee: None. Application procedures: Closing date for applications December 31, applicants notified of decisions by May 1, accepted applicants must reply before May 15. No transfer students, as such. All students compete for admission as new students and must complete full 4-year program. Credit given for previous college work but substitute courses must be taken. Additional information: All candidates must meet physical and other requirements for appointment as midshipman in the naval reserve.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 350 men. (Freshman class enrolls in July of each year.) 100% live on campus in dormitories, 5% from minority backgrounds. Middle 50% of enrolled freshmen have SAT-verbal scores between 500 and 550 and SAT-mathematical scores between 550 and 600. Programs undergraduates choose: Nautical science 50%, marine engineering 50%. Student activities: Midshipman military organization and midshipman council, student newspaper, yearbook, radio, marching band. Athletics: Baseball, basketball, bowling, cross-country, football, golf, gymnastics, handball, rifle, rowing (crew), sailing, soccer, softball, swimming and diving, table tennis, tennis, touch football, track and field, volleyball, wrestling. Student services: Counseling, health services, placement service for graduates and alumni. Regulations: All students must live on campus. Only upperclassmen allowed automobiles. Chapel attendance voluntary.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: None. Room and board: None. Other expenses (freshman year): $950.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Since this is federal academy, students are not charged for tuition or room and board. In addition, they receive free dental and medical care, and allowance of $475 a year for uniforms and textbooks.

United States Military Academy, West Point, New York

Four-year federal military academy and liberal arts college for men. Undergraduates: 4,000 men. Calendar: Semester. No summer academic sessions; cadets receive two months of military training. Location: Small town 50 miles north of New York City. Special features: The United States Military Academy is a four year institution offering a Bachelor of Science degree, plus a commission as a Second Lieutenant in the U.S. Army.

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Bachelor. Fields of study: Areas of concentration, from which cadets may choose electives, are engineering and applied sciences, basic sciences, humanities, national security and public affairs, interdisciplinary field (management). These are not majors or minors, however, in the usual sense. Special programs: Honors courses are available, which include independent study courses. However, this is not an Honors Program as normally defined. Programs for students from minorities or low-income families: Tutoring and remedial instruction is available for all students who might need this help. Required freshman courses: English composition, foreign language, mathematics, science. Tests used for counseling, placement, or credit: Placement, credit, or both will sometimes be given on basis of Advanced Placement Examinations. Placement or transfer of credits is dependent upon the individual academic department concerned. Academic regulations: The cadet must obtain a passing grade in every course. In addition, he must meet specified standards of conduct and physical proficiency, and he must demonstrate aptitude for the military service.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 6,000 men applied, 1,360 were accepted. Admissions requirements: ACT by February, or SAT by January. ACH Mathematics I or II and English Composition Test. No specific units are required, but recommended high school preparation includes 4 years of English, 3 or 4 of mathematics, 2 of laboratory science, 1 of U.S. history, and 2 or 3 of a foreign language. Basis for selection: On a selection scale of 5, with 5 being the highest, relative weights are: physical aptitude test 5, medical examination 5, high school class rank 4, ACT or SAT 3, school recommendation 2, extra-curricular record 2, transcript of courses 1. An equal opportunity Admissions Officer attempts to reach qualified minority group members who otherwise might not apply for admission. Middle 50% of applicants accepted for admission had SAT-verbal scores between 503 and 609 and SAT-mathematical scores between 580 and 678. Application fee: None. Application procedures: Closing date for applications December 15, applicants notified of decisions on a rolling notification procedure, accepted applicants must reply by May 1. CRDA. EDP-F. Transfer applicants: All cadets must complete 4 years at the college; all enter as freshmen regardless of previous college attendance. About 11% have previous college experience. Transfer of college credits is dependent upon the individual academic department concerned.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 1,360 men. 9-10% from New York, 100% live on campus, 5% from minority backgrounds. Middle 50% of enrolled freshmen who took SAT have SAT-verbal scores between 510 and 625 and SAT-mathematical scores between 575 and 680. Middle 50% of enrolled freshmen who took ACT have ACT composite scores between 26 and 28. Postgraduate studies: 75-80% of graduates who remain in service attend graduate school during their military career. Student activities: Student government (cadets manage the customs and traditions programs with power of discipline, the Cadet Honor System, with power to recommend dismissal, the intramural athletic programs, the military drill and training programs for underclassmen, and all extracurricular activities), magazine, yearbook, radio, religious organizations, drama, musical theater, glee club. Athletics: Baseball, basketball, cross-country, fencing, football, golf, gymnastics, handball, ice hockey, lacrosse, rifle, rugby, sailing, skiing, soccer, squash, swimming and diving, tennis, track and field, water polo, wrestling, football, indoor track, skydiving, triatholon, pistol. Student services: Counseling, health services. Regulations: All students must live on campus; chapel attendance is mandatory; automobiles are not allowed on campus until senior year; and dress regulations (military uniform).

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: All students receive a full scholarship, free room and board, free medical care, plus an annual salary of $2700.

Ohio State Psychological Examination required of transfer students. Reading test and Vocational Interest Inventory required of all students. Other tests available. Academic regulations: Students must carry 4 courses per semester and maintain C average or better, but exceptions to both are made in individual cases. 95% are eligible to continue to sophomore year. 80% of all freshmen are enrolled as juniors. Over 90% will receive degree within a year or two of normal time. Graduate programs: Biological sciences, business and commerce, computer science and systems analysis, education, engineering, English and journalism, fine and applied arts, foreign language and literature, health professions, mathematics, music, philosophy, physical sciences, psychology, social sciences. Additional information: All entering freshmen are enrolled in the College of Arts and Science for a 2-year period. They then enroll in various departments or colleges for the last 2 years.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 2,359 men applied, 1,738 were accepted; 1,588 women applied, 1,120 were accepted. Admissions requirements: SAT and ACH by January of senior year. English Composition ACH and any other 2. High school English 4 units, social studies 3, foreign language 3, mathematics 3, science 3. Above are recommended, not required. Interview recommended. Basis for selection: University is interested in students with sound academic preparation who have challenged themselves in their secondary school curriculum. Recommendations, test scores, and scope and variety of activities are also taken into consideration in choosing a class which is both well qualified and varied. Special consideration is given to minority group and disadvantaged applicants. Middle 50% of applicants accepted for admission had SAT-verbal scores between 572 and 673 and SAT-mathematical scores between 614 and 720. Application fee: $20, may be waived for those who would suffer financial hardship by paying the fee. Application procedures: Closing date for applications January 15, applicants notified of decisions by April 15, accepted applicants must reply by May 1. CRDA. EDP-S. Transfer applicants: About 500 apply annually, and 300 are accepted. Other requirements and procedures: There is a 2-year residence requirement for all degree candidates in the College of Arts and Science. All other colleges (Education, Engineering, Nursing, University School) require 1 year of residence. All those who enter the junior level in College of Arts and Science must be accepted into a specific department or interdepartmental concentration. Students in good standing at other accredited institutions who have sound educational reasons for transferring are given serious consideration. Credit is granted upon individual review of course work previously taken.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 500–600 men, 400–500 women. 60% from New York, 95% live on campus, 5% commute, 7% from minority backgrounds. Middle 50% of enrolled freshmen have SAT-verbal scores between 548 and 658 and SAT-mathematical scores between 596 and 707. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 81%, engineering 9%, education 3%, business 1%, health services 6%. Postgraduate studies: 75% of graduates enter graduate or professional programs. Student activities: Student government, student newspaper, magazine, yearbook, radio, film, religious organizations (Hillel, Newman Club, Protestant group, Intervarsity Christian Fellowship, coordinated interfaith activities), drama, opera or musical theater, dance, symphony orchestra, marching band, concert band, choirs, glee clubs, political organizations, ethnic organizations, social service organizations, fraternities. Athletics: Archery-W, badminton, baseball-M, basketball, bowling, cross-country-M, fencing, field hockey-W, football-M, golf, gymnastics, handball, lacrosse-M, rifle, rugby-M, sailing-M, skiing, soccer-M, softball-M, squash, swimming and diving, tennis, track and field-M, water polo-M, volleyball, wrestling-M. Student services: Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni, academic advising. Regulations: No cars allowed freshmen and sophomores. All freshmen must live on campus unless they live at home.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $3,100. Room and board: $1,450. Other expenses: $525.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP, federal nursing loans and scholarships. 1,225 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need, 885 of these were offered aid, 250 of these were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: Selection for award is based upon merit, taking into account academic and personal qualifications. The amount of an award is based upon financial need. The type of financial aid and the package awarded are affected by certain factors, including:

academic program, specific talents, and nomination for special awards. A program for disadvantaged students includes provision for appropriate financial aid. Middle 50% of applicants who were offered financial aid had SAT-verbal scores between 548 and 658 and SAT-mathematical scores between 596 and 707. Application procedures: Closing date for applications January 15, applicants notified of decisions by April 15, recipients of aid offers must reply by May 1. These programs are part of the Higher Educational Opportunity Program and are for its students only. Required freshman courses: English composition. Tests used for counseling, placement, or credit: Placement, credit, or both will generally be given for grades of 3 and higher in Advanced Placement Examinations. Credit will generally be given on basis of CLEP Subject Examinations. Maximum of 15 semester hours of credit by examination may be counted toward degree. Academic regulations: In order to maintain good standing a student must have a C (2.00) average. Additional information: An option to the more traditionally required courses is now offered, giving the student freedom to choose any 30 credit hours outside his major area. Supervised independent study is then possible under this option.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 567 men applied, 444 were accepted; 325 women applied, 270 were accepted. Admissions requirements: ACT or SAT by March of senior year. ACH left to the discretion of the student. College requires the SAT but will accept the ACT. High school English 4 units, mathematics 1 (for engineering 3½ to 4). The one unit of mathematics must be algebra. Interview recommended. Basis for selection: Main factors considered are academic high school records, SAT scores, extracurricular participation, and recommendations from school personnel. There is consideration for geographical as well as alumni background. Different emphasis, appropriate criteria, and a special admissions officer facilitate minority low-income program. Application fee: $20, may be waived for applicants for Higher Education Opportunity Program. Application procedures: Closing date for applications June 1 (later applications will be studied), applicants notified of decisions on a rolling basis, accepted applicants should reply by May 1, but must reply no later than July 1. CRDA. EDP-S. Transfer applicants: About 575 apply annually, and 440 are accepted. Apply by July 5 for fall term. Other requirements and procedures: candidates for transfer must make formal application, using same form as freshmen. All transcripts and catalogs of previous work taken must be submitted. Transfer credit will be granted from institutions of collegiate rank. From 2-year institutions credit not to exceed half of hours necessary to meet degree requirements. To qualify for a degree the last 30 hours must be at Utica College on a matriculated basis.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 232 men, 129 women. 70% from New York, 70% live on campus, 30% commute, 11% from minority backgrounds. 15.8% of freshman men and 40% of freshman women were in the top fifth of their high school graduating class, 27.2% of freshman men and 25.2% of freshman women were in the second fifth, 23.4% of freshman men and 19.1% of freshman women were in the third fifth. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 64%, business 28%, health services 8%. Postgraduate studies: 10% of graduates enter graduate or professional programs. Student activities: Student government (students, faculty, and administration constitute a tripartite decision-making college council; equal numbers of each group sit on 13 standing committees of the council), student newspaper, magazine, yearbook, radio, television, film, Hillel, Newman Community, campus ministry council, drama, dance, woodwind and brass quartet, chorus, Black Student Union, social service organizations (Alpha Phi Omega, Gamma Eta chapter of Gamma Sigma Sigma, Circle K Club), fraternities, sororities. Athletics: Archery-W, baseball-M, basketball, billiards, bowling, cross-country-M, field hockey-W, football-M, golf, handball-M, ice hockey-M, indoor track-M, rifle-M, shuffleboard, skiing-M, soccer-M, softball, swimming and diving, table tennis, tennis, volleyball, wrestling-M. Student services: Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni. Academic services: writing workshop to help with writing problems, media center where students listen to tapes of plays, poetry, music, and lectures. Regulations: Freshmen not living at home must live in dormitories. Exceptions, as in cases of students working for room and board, may be granted by Director of Student Services. Upperclassmen may request permission to live off campus. No married student housing available. Freshmen may have cars; all cars must be registered. Possession and use of alcoholic beverages on college property allowed under certain conditions. Gambling forbidden. Regular class attendance required. No marriage regulations.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $2,080. Room and board: $1,075. Other expenses: $450.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP. About 204 accepted freshman applicants were offered aid, 200 were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: The amount of financial assistance awarded is based directly on student need as determined each year by the financial analysis systems of the college and the CSS. The forms of financial aid (scholarship, loan, and so forth) offered are affected by student need, academic potential, creativity, and participation in college activities. Because the amount of financial assistance awarded usually reflects the financial situation of the student's family, it is not the policy of the college to make public notification of awards. Application procedures: Closing date for applications preferably May 1, applicants notified of decisions as soon as approved, recipients of aid offers must reply 2 weeks after notification but not earlier than May 1. PCS and college application required. Transfer students: Should have applications by February 15.

High school mathematics 2 units. Admission requirements specify only 2 units beyond those normally required for secondary school graduation. These are 2 years of algebra or 1 year of algebra and 1 year of geometry. Basis for selection: The decision to accept or reject is based primarily upon a determination of an applicant's probability of being in good academic standing at the end of his or her freshman year. The factors used in making this determination are the SAT score and the secondary school class rank. Of these two factors, secondary school class rank is considered to be the more important. Freshmen must also present a positive recommendation from secondary school officials and the appropriate units of secondary school credit. Application fee: $10. Application procedures: No closing date for applications, applicants notified of decisions by December 1, January 25, and March 1 (approximate dates), accepted applicants must reply three weeks from date of acceptance. Transfer applicants: About 1,248 apply annually, and 1,105 are accepted. Apply by 10 days prior to registration for fall term. Other requirements and procedures: transfer admission requirements consist primarily of having a cumulative 2.0 (on a 4.0 scale) grade-point average on all previous college work attempted and being academically and socially eligible to return to the last institution attended. The applicant who has completed less than one year (defined as 30 semester or 45 quarter hours) must meet freshman requirements in addition to transfer requirements. Credit toward graduation will be given for all college work completed if comparable to that offered by the university. Applicants with credits from a junior institution only must complete 90 quarter hours at the university.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 672 men, 728 women. 91% from North Carolina, 94% live on campus, 6% commute, 1% from minority backgrounds. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 26%, education 64%, business 10%. Postgraduate studies: 22% of graduates enter graduate or professional programs. Student activities: Student government (student research, student printing, student employment), student newspaper, magazine, yearbook, radio, television, religious organizations, drama, opera or musical theater, dance, symphony orchestra, marching band, concert band, dance band, political organizations (Young Democrats, Young Republicans), ethnic organizations, social service organizations. Athletics: Baseball-M, basketball, bowling, cross-country-M, fencing-M, field hockey-W, football-M, golf, gymnastics, handball, skiing, soccer-M, softball, swimming and diving, tennis, track and field-M, wrestling-M, volleyball, weight training-M. Student services: Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni. Regulations: Freshmen, with the exceptions of bona fide residents of the local area and married students, are required to reside in campus housing. Freshmen residing in campus housing are not allowed to operate motor vehicles. Upperclassmen with a cumulative average of C are allowed to operate motor vehicles on campus.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $455.73; for students from out of state $2,055.73. Room and board: $900. Other expenses: $450.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP. 498 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need; 428 of these were offered aid; 428 of these were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: Admission to the university is the only academic qualification necessary to be eligible for financial aid. The prime factor utilized by the university in awarding financial aid is financial need. Specifically, need is defined as the difference between what the university determines the applicant's family can afford to pay and the total cost of attending the institution. Application procedures: Closing date for applications April 15, applicants notified of decisions by May 1. PCS required. Institutional application required. Transfer students: Freshman and transfer applicants for financial aid are treated with essentially the same rationale.

Men and women not residing in their own homes are required to live in college housing as long as housing is available. Any exceptions to this regulation must be cleared through the dean of women or dean of men's office.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $1,098. Room and board: $750. Other expenses: $200.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP, Plans for Assuring a College Education (PACE). 115 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need; 98 of these were offered aid; 70 of these were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: All applicants, whether from North Carolina or from out of state, are considered on the same basis. This basis is mostly determined by the need represented on the PCS. However, academic performance is taken into consideration. Middle 50% of applicants who were offered financial aid had SAT-verbal scores between 400 and 450 and SAT-mathematical scores between 400 and 450. Application procedures: Closing date for applications May 1, applicants notified of decisions within 1 month of acceptance for admissions and completion of financial aid application, recipients of aid offers must reply within 30 days from date of notification. PCS required. Transfer students: Generally, the college tries to keep transfer students on the same programs which they received at previously attended institutions. Procedures are the same as for freshmen.

Close relations among students and faculty. Cosmopolitan makeup of student body is an effective educational element.

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Bachelor. Fields of study: Art (studio art), biological sciences (biology), business and commerce (accounting, business management and administration), education (secondary), pre-engineering, English and literature (literature), health and medical professions (medical technology), history and cultures (European), philosophy and religion (scholastic philosophy), physical sciences (chemistry, physical sciences), psychology (general), social sciences (economics, police science, sociology). Special programs: 3-2 liberal arts and engineering combination, 3-2 combination in dentistry, law, and medicine. Required freshman courses: English composition, history or social studies, religion. Tests used for counseling, placement, or credit: Placement, credit, or both will generally be given for grades of 3 and higher in Advanced Placement Examinations. Credit will generally be given on basis of CLEP General Examinations. Maximum of 30 semester hours of credit by examination may be counted toward degree. Academic regulations: No first semester freshmen suspended; a freshman is placed on probation if his quality-point index is below 0.50 in the second semester. Minimum requirements increase as student advances in class. 90% of freshmen complete year in good academic standing. Additional information: Already open curriculum but still being revised. Cooperative program with Sacred Heart College allows expanded major offerings. Charlotte area education consortium membership allows free cross-registration for courses at any of 9 other area colleges.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 375 men applied, 346 were accepted. Admissions requirements: SAT by March of senior year. High school English 4 units, social studies 1, mathematics 2 (4 for pre-engineering), science 1 (2 for pre-engineering). 16 total units required. Exceptions to specific requirements are made. Interview recommended. Basis for selection: Chief measure is academic competency; high school achievement heavily weighed; no minimum SAT but 900 combined score generally required. SAT-verbal score is more important than SAT-mathematical score. Extracurricular achievements have substantial weight. No special quotas. Middle 50% of applicants accepted for admission had SAT-verbal scores between 400 and 500 and SAT-mathematical scores between 420 and 520. Application fee: $10. Application procedures: Closing date for applications August 10, applicants notified of decisions immediately upon completing application requirements, accepted applicants must reply by May 2 or 2 weeks after acceptance (whichever is later). CRDA. Transfer applicants: About 100 apply annually, and 50 are accepted. Apply by August 10 for fall term. Other requirements and procedures: 0.85 quality-point index for freshman and sophomore transfers, 1.00 for juniors and seniors; be in good standing at last college; meet all first-time-student requirements; favorable recommendation from previous dean of students. All credits accepted from A.A. degree. Otherwise C or better grades; earlier D work ignored, but F work remains a penalty. Additional information: Special veterans program; exceptional students admitted after junior year of high school; summer program in study and verbal skills for weak students.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 225 men. 25% from North Carolina, 87% live on campus, 13% commute, 2% from minority backgrounds. Strong C average in high school is typical and desirable. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 44%, engineering 1%, business 49%, sciences 6%. Postgraduate studies: 40% of graduates enter graduate or professional programs. Student activities: Student government (voting membership on most standing and faculty committees), student newspaper, magazine, yearbook, radio, religious organizations, drama, political organizations (Young Democrats and Young Republicans), ethnic organizations (Afro-American Union), social service organizations (service fraternity, intern programs in service agencies), fraternities. Athletics: Baseball, basketball, bowling, cross-country, football, golf, gymnastics, handball, skiing, soccer, softball, swimming and diving, tennis, track and field. Student services: Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni. Regulations: First semester freshmen may not have cars on campus; all students not living in parental or legal residence required to live on campus. No compulsory chapel; self-responsibility encouraged. Additional information: Students socially conscious, active in local communities. Strong sense of community on campus; warm relationships between faculty and students. Common college union with Sacred Heart College for women is strong. Active organization in extracurricular programming.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $1,320. Room and board: $885.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP. 74 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need; 49 of these were offered aid; 6 of these were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: Federal aid is offered on basis of financial need. Preference is given to poverty-level income applicants. No differentiation between North Carolina and out-of-state students. Qualifications are not a significant factor in federal aid, but are of heavy consideration in merit scholarships. Application procedures: Closing date for applications March 15, applicants notified of decisions by April 15, recipients of aid offers must reply by May 2. PCS required. Transfer students: Transfer students are considered for aid on basis of need. If they received federal aid at first college and qualify for aid at the college, they will be offered the same type of aid. Procedures are the same as for freshmen. Additional information: An effort is made to help all students who need financial aid by locating jobs, both on campus and off campus, for them. Students and parents are advised of the state guaranteed loan programs. For students who do not qualify for this type of aid, commercial loan programs are made available.

High school equivalency certificate acceptable with required units made up in guided studies programs. Interview recommended. Basis for selection: The institute is a coeducational institution open to any individual who meets the admissions requirements for the particular course in which he chooses to enroll. If a student fails to meet the admissions requirements for the course of his choice, a member of the counseling staff will help him plan a remedial or preparatory program of study. The counselor may recommend a program more suitable to the individual's ability, aptitude, and educational background. Essentially, with minor modifications, this amounts to an open-door policy. Application procedures: Closing date for applications September 1, applicants notified of decisions on a rolling admissions basis. Transfer applicants: About 100 apply annually, and 100 are accepted. Apply by September 1 for fall term. Other requirements and procedures: applicants must submit a transcript of credits earned from each institution previously attended. Credit presented must be C or better. Credit accepted for comparable course work as hours earned.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 600 men, 500 women. 98% from North Carolina, 100% commute, 22% from minority backgrounds. Programs undergraduates choose: Engineering 30%, business 40%, health services 20%, art 10%. Student activities: Student government, student newspaper, yearbook, drama, ethnic organizations, fraternities. Athletics: Basketball-M, bowling, football-M, softball-W. Student services: Counseling, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $152; for students from out of state $574. Other expenses: $50 to $200 per year depending on curriculum.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP. 348 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need; 250 of these were offered aid. Basis for selection: The institute subscribes to the principle that the amount of financial aid granted a student should be based upon financial need. Application procedures: Closing date for applications May 15, applicants notified of decisions within two weeks, recipients of aid offers must reply within two weeks. PCS required. Transfer students: Transfer students who previously received aid are given prime consideration. Additional information: The institute makes every effort to assist serious students to continue their education. A lack of financial support should not deter prospective students from submitting an application for admission to the institute.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $124, for students from out of state $439.50. Other expenses: $150.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP. 131 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need; 48 of these were offered aid; 24 of these were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: The main basis for selection is financial need with minor emphasis on academic qualifications. Since the amount of tuition for out-of-state students is considerably higher than it is for North Carolina students, out-of-state students' need is greater. The guidelines of the college's major financial aid programs emphasize the use of funds for low-income groups. Application procedures: Closing date for applications July 1, recipients of aid offers must reply by last day of fall registration. The college's application for financial aid is required. Transfer students: If a transfer student is accepted for admission, he is subject to the same criteria as a freshman. They include the guidelines set forth for transfer students for the NDSL, EOG, and CWSP.

Academic probation permitted for two successive semesters only. 80% of freshmen complete year in good standing. Additional information: Teaching is the primary function at the college, and students are the foremost concern. Extraordinary teaching which produces out-of-the-ordinary learning is encouraged. Teaching methods include seminars, internships, inquiry courses, and independent study and research.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 436 men applied, 239 were accepted; 350 women applied, 267 were accepted. Admissions requirements: SAT by May. High school English 4 units, social studies 1, foreign language 2 preferred, mathematics 2, science 1, and other electives to complete requirements for graduation. Students over 21 may be admitted on basis of a high school equivalency certificate. Interview recommended. Basis for selection: Applicant should have an overall C average (2.00 quality-point ratio), approximately 800 combined score on SAT, rank in top two-thirds of high school graduating class, and have a satisfactory personal recommendation from school official. Application fee: $15. Application procedures: Closing date for applications August 1, applicants notified of decisions on a rolling admissions basis, accepted applicants must reply within two weeks of notification of acceptance. Transfer applicants: About 150 apply annually, and 125 are accepted. Apply by August 1 for fall term. Other requirements and procedures: applicants should have minimum 1.75 quality-point ratio; they should be in good standing and eligible to return to school from which transferring. Transcripts required from all colleges attended; limited number of D's accepted in nonmajor areas. Additional information: Not elitist in admissions policies, the college feels that variety in the student body enhances the educational environment. The college prefers students who are acquainted with this type of institution and who are genuinely interested in what the college has to offer.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 169 men, 186 women. 54% from North Carolina, 90% live on campus, 10% commute, 2% from minority backgrounds. Middle 50% of enrolled freshmen have SAT-verbal scores between 360 and 480 and SAT-mathematical scores between 390 and 500. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 12%, education 37%, business 11%, home economics 2%, fine arts 4%, health services 1%, religion 3%, mathematics or science 17%, social science 13%. Postgraduate studies: 15% of graduates of 4-year programs enter graduate or professional programs. Student activities: Student government (has official voice in college operations), student newspaper, magazine, yearbook, radio, religious organizations (Christian Student Movement, Canterbury Club, Fellowship Christian Athletes), drama, opera workshop, marching band, concert band, touring choir, chorus, stage band, oratorio singers, madrigal singers, national honor societies (Alpha Psi Omega, Phi Mu Alpha, Delta Omicron, Beta Beta Beta), social service organizations. Athletics: Archery, baseball-M, basketball, cross-country-M, fencing, field hockey, football-M, golf, gymnastics, handball, softball, swimming and diving, tennis, track and field-M, wrestling-M. Student services: Counseling, health services, placement service for graduates and alumni. Regulations: Campus housing required except for veterans, married students, or those living at home; alcohol, nonprescription drugs, and firearms prohibited on campus; automobiles permitted.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $1,360. Room and board: $675. Other expenses: $525.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP. 100 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need; 95 of these were offered aid; 85 of these were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: Financial need is the primary basis for determining who gets aid and how much. Neither an applicant's race nor his residence are given special consideration except for applicants from poverty-level areas in western North Carolina, who are given special consideration. Academic qualifications are minor considerations. Application procedures: Closing date for applications May 1, applicants notified of decisions by June 1, recipients of aid offers must reply within two weeks. PCS required. FFS required. Transfer students: An attempt is made to continue the same level of aid the applicant received at the previous school. Requirements and procedures are otherwise the same as for other applicants. Additional information: Scholarships in music and other fields of study are available to talented students. Some alumni chapters offer scholarships for students from their regions.

Meredith College, Raleigh, North Carolina

Four-year Baptist liberal arts college for women. Undergraduates: 1,205 women. Calendar: Semester, summer session. Location: Small city.

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Bachelor. Fields of study: Art (studio art), biological sciences (biology), business and commerce (business management and administration), education (art, business, elementary, home economics, music, secondary), English and literature (English, literature), foreign languages (Classical languages–Latin, French, Spanish), history and cultures (interdisciplinary American studies, interdisciplinary non-Western civilizations), home economics, mathematics, music (instrumental music, voice), philosophy and religion (religion), physical sciences (chemistry), psychology (general), social sciences (economics, social work, sociology). Special programs: Independent study, study abroad in approved programs, community internships in some fields, cooperative program with other five Raleigh colleges. Programs for students from minorities or low-income families: Reduced course load can be arranged when needed. Required freshman courses: English composition, foreign language, physical education, freshman colloquium – unstructured one-hour course on broad, general topics or issues of particular interest to students with emphasis on thinking in new ways about these topics and on maximum student-faculty discussion. Tests used for counseling, placement, or credit: Placement, credit, or both will generally be given for grades of 3 and higher in Advanced Placement Examinations. Placement, credit, or both may be given on the basis of a departmental examination. Academic regulations: A student is considered to be making minimal progress toward graduation if she passes 9 semester hours and earns 18 quality points in any given semester. A grade of A carries 4 quality points; a B, 3; a C, 2; a D, 1; an F, none. Approximately 95% of freshmen complete the first year in good academic standing.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 675 women applied, 563 were accepted. Admissions requirements: SAT by January. High school English 4 units, foreign language 2, mathematics 3. At least 16 units, including a minimum of 13 academic units, are required. Interview recommended. Basis for selection: Strong consideration is given to the high school record including course selection, academic performance, and class rank. A student is expected to rank in the top half of her graduating class. SAT scores are evaluated in light of other academic factors. Recommendations, and often interviews, provide a good basis for considering nonmeasurable qualities such as motivation, creative ability, and independent thought. Middle 50% of applicants accepted for admission had SAT-verbal scores between 549 and 435 and SAT-mathematical scores between 560 and 467. Application fee: $15, may be waived for applicants with financial need. Application procedures: Closing date for applications February 15, applicants notified of decisions before January 1 and April 1, accepted applicants must reply by May 1. CRDA, EDP-S. Transfer applicants: About 82 apply annually, and 64 are accepted. Apply by February 15 for fall term. Other requirements and procedures: a transfer applicant is expected to have a minimum grade-point average of 2.000 (on a 4.000 scale) and to be in good standing at the institution previously attended. A transfer applicant having fewer than 28 semester hours of credit must meet freshman admissions requirements. Credit is transferred on all acceptable courses passed. The student transferring from a junior college is expected to have from a senior college at least 58 semester hours before she can graduate.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 376 women. 80% from North Carolina, 96% live on campus, 4% commute, 1% from minority backgrounds. Middle 50% of enrolled freshmen have SAT-verbal scores between 535 and 420 and SAT-mathematical scores between 552 and 465. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 58%, business 5%, home economics 13%, fine arts 15%, religion 9%. Postgraduate studies: 10-15% of graduates enter graduate or professional programs. Student activities: Student government, student newspaper, magazine, yearbook, religious organizations, drama, dance, chorus, choir, and vocal ensemble, social service organizations. Athletics: Basketball, tennis. Student services: Counseling, health services, placement service for graduates and alumni. Regulations: All students must live on campus unless living with close relatives or married and living with husband. Juniors and seniors may have cars on campus. Convocation (not a religious service) is required once weekly. Dress is according to individual taste. Drinking on campus is prohibited.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $1,500. Room and board: $1,000.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP. 117 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need; 104 of these were offered aid; 10 of these were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: Financial need is the basis for determining all student aid awards. Aid is awarded initially and is renewed without regard to academic performance as long as the student is eligible for admission or, if enrolled, is making satisfactory progress toward the degree. Every effort is made to see that students from low-income families receive the assistance needed to make enrollment possible. Application procedures: Closing date for applications February 15, applicants notified of decisions by April 1, recipients of aid offers must reply by May 1. PCS required. Institutional application required. Transfer students: A transfer student approved for admission will be considered for all types of aid available at the college, including scholarships, loans, grants, and job opportunities. The basis for an award is financial need. Two honor scholarships for junior college graduates are available; the award is based on academic ability, but the stipend ($100 to $1,000 per year) is determined by the winner's need for assistance.

Methodist College, Fayetteville, North Carolina

Four-year private liberal arts college for men and women, affiliated with the North Carolina Conference of the United Methodist Church. Undergraduates: 450 men, 313 women. Calendar: Semester, summer session. Location: Large city 55 miles from Raleigh, North Carolina.

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Bachelor. Fields of study: Art (art history, design, studio art), biological sciences (biology, botany, ecology, zoology), business and commerce (accounting, business management and administration, finance, marketing, sales and retailing), education (art, elementary, general, health, music, physical education, secondary), English and literature (English, literature, speech), foreign languages (French, German, Russian, Spanish), geography, history and cultures (American, ancient, European), mathematics (statistics), music (composition and theory, instrumental music, music history), philosophy and religion (philosophy, religion), physical sciences (chemistry, physics), psychology (child, general, social), social sciences (anthropology, economics, international relations, political science, social work, sociology). Special programs: Independent study, 3-2 liberal arts and engineering combination. Programs for students from minorities or low-income families: Reduced course load. The college's academic requirements for continuance in college are helpful to the educationally deprived. Although the student must pass at least 16 semester hours per academic year, if he fails to reach the desired grade-point average, he may be allowed to continue for another year on academic warning. Thus, if he has the potential, he has a good chance to work up to the 2.00 grade-point average needed for graduation. Required freshman courses: English composition, foreign language, history or social studies, literature, mathematics, physical education, religion, science, general psychology. Tests used for counseling, placement, or credit: Credit will generally be given on basis of CLEP General and Subject Examinations. Academic regulations: A minimum cumulative grade-point average of 1.25 at the end of the spring semester of the first academic year is required. Additional information: Through its teacher education program the college prepares secondary school teachers of English, French, mathematics, science, and social studies, and special teachers of general music.

The preprofessional areas of study include prelaw, premedical, predental, and pretheological.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 266 men applied, 219 were accepted; 170 women applied, 162 were accepted. Admissions requirements: ACT or SAT. High school English 4 units, history or social studies 1, foreign language 2, mathematics 2, science 1, electives 6. In some special cases, the high school language requirement may be waived if students are otherwise qualified. Interview recommended. Basis for selection: Evaluation for admission is based on high school graduation, average on precollege courses, satisfactory performance on the SAT or ACT, and character reference. The first requisite is academic ability, but this is not the sole requisite. Students will not be selected solely on the basis of their academic standing. Any student whose record indicates reasonable potential for doing acceptable college work will be considered eligible academically. Of equal importance are intangible assets of character and attitude. Application fee: $10. Application procedures: Closing date for applications up to the beginning of classes (August 25), applicants notified of decisions as soon as application and all supporting papers received, accepted applicants must reply within 30 days of acceptance (reservation fee refunded until July 1). Transfer applicants: About 85 apply annually, and 75 are accepted. Apply by August 25 for fall term. Other requirements and procedures: a transfer applicant is required to submit a transcript of the high school record, SAT scores, and a transcript of all college work attempted. A transfer student should have a grade-point average (from last institutions attended) equal to, or better than, that required of students at the college. Additional information: Eligibility for transfer to the college is based upon one's cumulative grade-point average at the end of a given academic year on the 4.00 system. A student is eligible to be considered for admission provided he has a minimum cumulative grade-point average of 1.25 at the end of the spring semester of the first academic year, 1.50 at the end of the second academic year, and 1.75 at the end of the third academic year. The maximum number of hours transferable from a junior college is 68 semester hours or 102 quarter hours.

Rockingham Community College
Wentworth, North Carolina

Two-year public liberal arts college for men and women. Undergraduates: 795 men, 449 women. Calendar: Quarter, 3 summer sessions. Location: Rural community 26 miles from Greensboro, North Carolina. Special features: Developmental studies approach to learning; learning laboratory.

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Associate. Fields of study: Art, biological sciences, business and commerce (accounting, business management and administration, secretarial studies), communications (communications, journalism), education (art, business, elementary, general, music, physical education, secondary), English and literature (creative writing, English, literature, speech), foreign languages, forestry and conservation, health and medical professions, history and cultures, mathematics, music, philosophy and religion, physical sciences, social sciences (sociology). Special programs: Cooperative education, independent study. Programs for students from minorities or low-income families: Special counselor, pre-admission summer program, tutoring, remedial instruction, reduced course load. Required freshman courses: English composition, history or social studies, mathematics, physical education, science. Tests used for counseling, placement, or credit: Placement, credit, or both will sometimes be given on basis of Advanced Placement Examinations. Credit will generally be given on basis of CLEP Subject Examinations. Any number of quarter hours of credit by examination may be counted toward degree. ACT probability research services are used. Academic regulations: No operative probation policy.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 661 men applied, 661 were accepted; 378 women applied, 378 were accepted. Admissions requirements: ACT. General Aptitude Test Battery for all occupational students. All tests are used for counseling and placement only. High school diploma or high school equivalency certificate required; not mandatory for vocational programs. Interview recommended. Basis for selection: ACT research services scores are used for placement in developmental studies for any applicant who cannot meet entry requirements. Rank and grades are only a portion of this consideration. Foreign applicants must demonstrate proficiency in English. Middle 50% of applicants accepted for admission had ACT composite scores between 13 and 18. Application fee: None. Application procedures: No closing date for applications, applicants notified of decisions when admission file is complete. Transfer applicants: About 150 apply annually, and 150 are accepted. Apply by registration deadline for fall term. Other requirements and procedures: applicants must present previous transcripts. Generally, grades of C or better from accredited institutions transfer. Additional information: Students are given pre-admission counseling and continued career-objectives counseling upon enrolling. Credits by proficiency are granted when appropriate. College parallel, technical, and vocational programs are available, and admissions procedures vary accordingly.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 661 men, 378 women. 97% from North Carolina, 100% commute, 15% from minority backgrounds. Middle 50% of enrolled freshmen have ACT composite scores between 13 and 18. Open-door policy admits students not yet prepared for credit work to developmental studies. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 43%, engineering 8%, education 3%, business 25%, health services 6%, vocational 15%. Postgraduate studies: 75% of graduates enter 4-year programs. Student activities: Student government, student newspaper, magazine, yearbook, religious organizations (Christian Fellowship Organization), ethnic organizations, social service organizations. Athletics: Archery, basketball, bowling, cross-country-M, football-M, golf, gymnastics, handball-M, soccer-M, softball, tennis, wrestling-M, volleyball, table tennis, shuffleboard, paddle tennis, badminton, horseshoes. Student services: Counseling, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni. Regulations: Student cars must show student identification sticker. Additional information: Students are encouraged to participate in organizations and clubs. Atmosphere is friendly and informal.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $153, for students from out of state $327. Other expenses: $125.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs, NDSL, EOG, CWSP, Nursing Student Loan Program, and Nursing Scholarships. 139 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need; 139 of these were offered aid; 83 of these were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: All awards are made on the basis of demonstrated financial need. With reference to academic qualifications, the college considers only probability of success in the programs of study. Awards are made to poverty-level income groups first, and the last awards are made to the least needy. The college uses two need analysis systems, the income tax and the alternate income system. An out-of-state student is given the same consideration as a student from North Carolina. Application procedures: No closing date for applications; most applicants are notified by mid-April. Other notifications are mailed as the applications are received. The college requires only its own aid application, which has an entire section devoted to the financial position of the applicant's family. Transfer students: If the student continues to demonstrate a financial need, appropriate aid will be offered. The college will especially try to continue assistance to a transfer student who has previously received an EOG. Other requirements and procedures are no different than for other students. Additional information: Since there is no application deadline, all persons anticipating a need for financial assistance should apply as early as possible, preferably in February or March. Also, students that are found to be ineligible for federal or institutional assistance should contact the job placement coordinator for possible off-campus jobs.

Rowan Technical Institute, Salisbury, North Carolina

Two-year public technical institute for men and women. Undergraduates: 522 men, 236 women. Calendar: Quarter, summer session. Location: Small city 40 miles from Charlotte, North Carolina. Special features: The institute is located on a 90-acre campus on Interstate Highway 85 South. The present physical plant consists of three buildings containing air-conditioned classrooms, laboratories, and shops. The institute provides two years of specialized education which prepares individuals for employment as technicians and other semiprofessional occupations and one year of vocational education for persons preparing for employment in a skilled trade.

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Associate. Fields of study: Business and commerce (business management and administration, marketing, medical and executive secretarial studies), computer science and systems analysis (data processing), engineering (drafting and design technology, 1-year mechanical drafting, industrial and management engineering, mechanical engineering), health and medical professions (nursing–practical, nursing–registered), social sciences (fire science), 1-year trade and vocational (automotive maintenance, machinist trade, welding trade, air-conditioning and refrigeration mechanics, electrical installation and maintenance), 2-year associate degrees (electronics technology, fire and safety engineering technology), 1-year preparatory guided studies (fire science certificate program). Programs for students from minorities or low-income families: Remedial instruction. Required freshman courses: English composition, social studies, mathematics. Academic regulations: Freshmen must maintain a 2.0 out of a possible 4.0 grade-point average; 75% of entering class finish the year in good standing.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 627 men applied, 522 were accepted; 284 women applied, 236 were accepted. Admissions requirements: Educational Testing Service cooperative series in mathematics, algebra, and reading; General Aptitude Test Battery. Mathematics and reading tests used for all vocational business, and nursing programs; algebra and reading tests used for all engineering technologies and data processing. Tests used for counseling or placement only. High school diploma or high school equivalency certificate required for all 2-year programs and practical nursing; 2 years of higher mathematics in high school (either algebra or algebra and geometry) required for engineering technologies and data processing. Interview required. Basis for selection: Previous educational record, test data, counselor's summation, with evidence that student has potential for success in chosen curriculum. Applications are processed on an equal first come-first served basis. Application fee: None. Application procedures: Closing date for applications August 1, applicants notified of decisions by August 1. Transfer applicants: About 25 apply annually, and 25 are accepted. Apply by August 1 for fall term. Other requirements and procedures: transcripts from all previous college-level work must be forwarded to the institute for evaluation; credit from previous institutions is evaluated by department chairman in program in which student is applying; credit is granted for comparable course work with grades of C or better. Additional information: The institute, as do all other branches of the North Carolina Department of Community Colleges, operates under an open-door admissions policy. Any high school graduate or any high school nongraduate 18 years old or older who is able to profit from further formal education may be admitted. This does not mean that there are no restrictions on specific programs. It does mean that these restrictions are flexible enough to allow each student the opportunity to eliminate deficiencies through remedial work. When student is able to meet specific admission requirements, he may then be enrolled and continue as long as satisfactory progress is made.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 522 men, 236 women. 97% from North Carolina, 100% commute, 17% from minority backgrounds. Programs undergraduates choose: Engineering 20%, business 35%, health services 11%, vocational (skilled trade) 28%, special students 6%. Postgraduate studies: 1% of graduates of two-year programs enter four-year programs. Student activities: Student government, student yearbook, Fire Protection Society, Practical Nurses Club, Mechanical Society, Business Club, and Society of Machine Shop Students. Athletics: Archery, basketball-M, bowling, football-M, golf-M, softball-M. Student services: Counseling, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni. Regulations: All students may have cars, but they must be registered by the school for campus parking privileges. No housing regulations; students live either at home or in room or apartment. Additional information: Students do not live on campus, but activities are provided such as sports, cheerleading, dances, field days, and club activities. Students also serve on various committees dealing with school policies.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $37 per quarter for full-time students; for students from out of state $142.50 per quarter for full-time students. Other expenses: $55 per quarter.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs, CWSP. 45 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need; 45 of these were offered aid; 17 of these were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: Need rather than academic qualifications considered first; however, students must show potential for success in their chosen field. Application procedures: Closing date for applications July 1, applicants notified of decisions by August 1. The institute's own confidential statement is required. Transfer students: All aid is offered to transfers on the same basis as entering freshmen and current sophomores.

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Bachelor. Fields of study: Art, biological sciences (biology), education (art, elementary, music, secondary), English and literature, foreign languages (Classical languages, French, German, Spanish), health and medical professions (medical technology), history and cultures, home economics, mathematics, music (instrumental music, voice), philosophy and religion (religion), physical sciences (chemistry), psychology, social sciences (economics, sociology). Special programs: Accelerated program, honors program, independent study, study abroad in summer only (Italy), interchange of course registration with Wake Forest University, medical technology program (awarding B.S. degree) in affiliation with Bowman Gray School of Medicine. Required freshman courses: English composition, physical education. Tests used for counseling, placement, or credit: Placement, credit, or both will generally be given for grades of 4 to 5, depending upon head of the department involved. Maximum of 8 semester hours per course of credit by examination may be counted toward degree (based on Advanced Placement Examinations). Salem College proficiency tests offered in all areas in which there are basic requirements. Academic regulations: Grade-point average of 1.5 required for freshmen to continue in good standing. 90% of freshmen complete year in good standing. Additional information: Great variety offered in on- and off-campus January term programs. Flexibility in students' choice of subjects beginning with freshman year. Individual counseling assists students in making realistic choices of major areas of concentration.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 277 women applied, 231 were accepted. Admissions requirements: SAT by December of senior year. ACH by January of senior year. An English, a foreign language, and a third ACH in an unrelated subject area are required. High school English 4 units, social studies 2, foreign language 2 (3 to 4 strongly recommended), mathematics 3, science 1. Total of 16 academic units completed in grades 9-12. Specific units listed above are recommended. Interview recommended. Basis for selection: Salem has no cutoff point for grades or College Board tests, and applicants are considered on an individual basis by a committee on admissions. Of primary importance are the candidate's school record, rank in class, choice of subjects, and school recommendation; participation in school and community activities is also noted. Special consideration is given to students of particular talents, foreign students, daughters of alumnae, and those from minorities or low-income families. However, no remedial or tutorial programs are offered, and applicants should present sufficient evidence of ability to perform successfully in the college-level courses of their greatest interest. Application fee: $15, may be waived for applicants from minority groups or low-income families. Application procedures: No closing date for applications, applicants notified of decisions in February or March if application completed by January 1 of senior year, accepted applicants must reply by May 1 of senior year. CRDA (except for 4 honor scholarship recipients). EDP-S. Transfer applicants: About 25 apply annually, and 20 are accepted. Apply by January 1 (recommended date) for fall term. Other requirements and procedures: transfers may be admitted to January or spring term; students who enter as seniors must complete a full year of work in residence at the college to qualify for graduation. Transfers must meet regular entrance requirements for admission to freshman class—must submit quality-point ratio of 2.0 on previous college work. Credits are evaluated by the academic dean and the registrar in terms of courses and course credits to be allowed by the college.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 150 women. 44% from North Carolina, 97% live on campus, 3% commute, less than 1% from minority backgrounds. Enrolled freshmen have median SAT-verbal scores of 524 and median SAT-mathematical scores of 553. Rank in class: top fifth or higher, 83.4% from public schools and 63.2% from private schools. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 67%, home economics 4%, fine arts 18%, sciences 11%. Postgraduate studies: 20% of graduates enter graduate programs. Student activities: Student government (Legislative Board, Honor Council, Inter-Dorm Council, Inter-Club Council; sponsors "self-scheduling" of examinations), student newspaper, magazine, yearbook, religious organizations (YWCA), drama, dance, choral ensemble, social service organizations. Athletics: Archery, basketball, fencing, field hockey, golf, gymnastics, tennis. Student services: Counseling, health services. Regulations: All regular students must live in college dormitories unless they make their homes with members of their immediate families or close friends of the family who will assume full responsibility for them; cars allowed for second semester freshmen and above; smoking prohibited in certain areas; drinking not allowed on college premises or at any college-sponsored functions off campus except those approved by faculty advisory board; key system for students using "self-determining hours"; residence hall doors locked 12 midnight on weekdays, 1 A.M. on Fridays and Saturdays. Additional information: No sororities; much interest in and excellent facilities for dramatics and modern dance; share in social activities of nearby colleges and universities; especially fine relationship between faculty and students (ratio 1 to 10); significant participation in denominational, cultural, and community service opportunities offered by the city of Winston-Salem.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Comprehensive fee: $3,300 for students who board; $1,650 for day students. Other expenses: $200.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs. NDSL. 35 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need; 35 of these were offered aid; 30 of these were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: No differentiation is made between North Carolina and out-of-state applicants. All financial aid is awarded on the basis of need, and all students who qualify for admission are considered. Applicants from minority or poverty-level groups are given every consideration possible. Application procedures: No closing date for applications, but scholarship and loan funds are largely distributed to those whose applications are completed by January 1 of senior year. Applicants notified of decisions at the same time they receive decisions of the admissions committee. Recipients of aid offers must reply by December 15 (EDP) or by May 1 of senior year. PCS required. Salem College form required. Transfer students: Same procedures and requirements as for freshmen. Additional information: Tuition payable in installments; reduced tuition for child of clergy or faculty member of the college.

High school English 4 units, foreign language 2, mathematics 1, science or history 1, electives 8. Subject unit distribution above is recommended. Interview in form of audition required. Basis for selection: Although all factors of admission process (school achievement, recommendations, test scores) considered in admission decisions, principal basis for admission is audition in desired major area of study. Applicants must demonstrate musical ability consistent with potentially successful professional career. Enrollment in specific major areas of study (especially winds and percussion) restricted in order to increase individual's performance participation. Middle 50% of applicants accepted for admission had SAT-verbal scores between 430 and 590 and SAT-mathematical scores between 450 and 570. Application fee: $15, may be waived for applicants with financial need. Application procedures: Closing date for applications September 1, applicants notified of decisions as soon as possible, accepted applicants must reply within 30 days. Transfer applicants: About 75 apply annually, and 25 are accepted. Apply by August 15 for fall term. Other requirements and procedures: Transfer candidates must be released from last school attended and recommended by appropriate official of that school for admission. Transfer candidates must submit college transcripts and must otherwise meet general admission requirements for freshmen, including auditions. Credits earned at other accredited institutions accepted, except in applied music and music theory, for which no credit is given unless warranted by professional examination. Additional information: All applicants must audition in their major performance area and complete placement examinations in music theory, secondary piano, and general music knowledge. Acceptance of applications closed when quotas in various major areas filled.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 18 men, 11 women. 53% from Ohio, 40% live on Case Western Reserve University campus, 60% commute, 7-10% from minority backgrounds. Middle 50% of enrolled freshmen have SAT-verbal scores between 450 and 590 and SAT-mathematical scores between 410 and 600. Programs undergraduates choose: Music 100%. Postgraduate studies: 65% of graduates enter graduate or professional programs. Student activities: Opera, dance, symphony orchestra, marching band, concert band, chorale, small ensembles of all kinds. Student services: Counseling and health services provided through Case Western Reserve University. Regulations: Students living in university housing must comply with dormitory regulations. Additional information: Students at Cleveland Institute of Music may participate in wide range of student activities at Case Western Reserve University which are not indicated above.

Credit will generally be given on basis of CLEP General Examinations. Maximum of approximately 1 year of credit by examination may be counted toward degree. Academic regulations: At completion of first quarter, students must have minimum cumulative average of 1.5 to be in good standing; end of second quarter, 1.6; third quarter, 1.7; fourth quarter, 1.8; fifth quarter, 1.9; sixth quarter, 2.0. Graduate programs: Biological sciences, business and commerce, education, engineering, English and journalism, law, mathematics, physical sciences, psychology, social sciences.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 3,111 men and women applied, 2,062 were accepted. Admissions requirements: ACT or SAT. High school English 4 units, social studies 2, foreign language 2, mathematics 2 (4 for engineering applicants), science 2. Interview recommended. Basis for selection: Combination of high school rank and SAT or ACT scores weighs heaviest in decision. However, each applicant evaluated on basis of all factors involved, including high school program, grades in key subjects, and counselor's recommendation. For admission to College of Arts and Sciences and Business Administration, Ohio residents must have high school class standing in top half with SAT combined score of 800 or ACT composite score of 18; for College of Engineering, high school class standing in top two-fifths with SAT composite score of at least 950 or ACT composite score of 22, with emphasis on performance in mathematics and science. Middle 50% of applicants accepted for admission had SAT-verbal scores between 400 and 550 and SAT-mathematical scores between 450 and 550. Application fee: $25. Application procedures: Closing date for applications 2 weeks prior to beginning of term, applicants notified of decisions approximately 2 weeks after completed application filed in office of admission, accepted applicants must reply as soon as possible. Transfer applicants: About 1,150 apply annually, and 750 are accepted. Apply 2 weeks prior to beginning of fall term. Other requirements and procedures: Previous college record of at least 2.0. Evaluation of transfer credit made after student has been admitted to university and complete transcript from college attended previously has been received. Student then has opportunity for program conference with adviser prior to registration. Ordinarily, credit will be granted for courses taken at accredited college or university in which grades of C or better were earned, provided these courses can be applied toward program student wishes to pursue at this university.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 1,100 men, 800 women. 99% from Ohio, 5% live on campus, 95% commute, 10% from minority backgrounds. Middle 50% of enrolled freshmen have SAT-verbal scores between 400 and 550 and SAT-mathematical scores between 450 and 550. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 50%, engineering 17%, education 5%, business 28%. Above statistics apply to day students only. Postgraduate studies: 15% of graduates enter graduate or professional programs. Student activities: Student government, student newspaper, yearbook, radio, religious organizations, drama, dance, concert band, political organizations, ethnic organizations, social service organizations, fraternities, sororities. Athletics: Baseball-M, basketball, bowling, cross-country-M, fencing, golf-M, handball-M, soccer-M, softball-M, swimming and diving, tennis, track and field-M, wrestling-M. Student services: Counseling, health services.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $690; out-of-state students $1,380.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, small loans, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP, Law Enforcement Education Program. 545 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need, 493 of these were offered aid, all of these were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: Financial need for majority of aid. For scholarships, need determines amount, and class rank and SAT scores select those so honored. Dormitory and out-of-state students given higher amounts of aid due to higher budgets, but selected on same basis as commuters. Minority group students have higher need and best qualify for EOG so they receive more aid than other commuters. Middle 50% of applicants who were offered scholarships had SAT-verbal scores between 500 and 700 and SAT-mathematical scores between 450 and 700. Application procedures: Closing date for applications April 15 (applicant should be admitted and have PCS filed by this date), applicants notified of decisions on rolling basis, recipients of aid offers must reply by May 30. PCS required. Transfer students: Closing date for admission and filing of PCS July 1. Transfers considered later than freshmen. Additional information: Other aid includes off-campus part-time work.

CORRESPONDENCE. Director of Admissions, or Director of Financial Aid, Walsh College, Canton, Ohio 44720.

Western College, Oxford, Ohio

Four-year private nonsectarian liberal arts college for men and women. Undergraduates: 3 men, 348 women (fall, 1971). There were also 105 men participating in a special program involving residence and participation in the campus life at Western but enrollment in classes at neighboring Miami University. On January 1, 1972, Western began enrolling both women and men as degree candidates. Calendar: There are 4 time modules of (in order) 12, 4, 6, and 10 weeks; learning units (courses) may run through one or more modules, as necessary or desirable. Calendar is flexible for students on off-campus study, adaptable to either quarter or semester system. Location: Small town in a rural area 35 miles from Cincinnati, Ohio. Special features: The college's innovative liberal arts program permits a student to design his own course of study, from overall thrust to the individual elements of the learning experience. The curriculum and the student's role within it are dynamic, free of the static and limiting structures of majors and minors, formal academic departments, required distributions of units, imprecise letter grades. Each student has an individual faculty tutor who advises, evaluates, criticizes, and assists the student in planning his academic program.

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Bachelor. Fields of study: Art (art history, design, studio art), biological sciences (biochemistry, biology, botany, ecology, zoology), communications (film), education (art, child development and nursery, elementary, general, home economics, music, secondary), English and literature (creative writing, English, literature, speech), ethnic studies (American Indian or native American, black or Afro-American), foreign languages (Classical languages, French, German, linguistics, Spanish), health and medical professions (medical technology), history and cultures (American, area and regional, European), home economics (clothing and textiles, family relations, food and nutrition, infant and child care, institution management), mathematics (statistics), music (composition and theory, instrumental music, music history, voice), philosophy and religion (philosophy, religion), physical sciences (astronomy, chemistry, earth science, geology, physics), psychology (child, experimental, social), social sciences (economics, international relations, political science, social work, sociology), theater arts (dance, drama, theater arts). Special programs: Independent study, study abroad (Junior Year Abroad, travel-study during Module II). A personalized and flexible educational program makes it possible for students to include an unlimited range of experiences in the undergraduate plan—off-campus study, internship experiences, independent study activities, specialized study at other institutions, travel and research experiences in the U.S. and abroad, participation in Argonne Semester, Washington Semester, Drew University Semester on United Nations, Merrill-Palmer Institute, Interfuture (all approved junior year abroad programs); a four-year medical technology program includes 3 years on Western campus, and one year at Miami Valley Hospital, Dayton, Ohio. Programs for students from minorities or low-income families: Reduced course load. Tests used for counseling, placement, or credit: Placement is sometimes determined on basis of Advanced Placement Examinations. Academic regulations: All students (including freshmen) must satisfactorily complete the learning units in their academic contract to remain in good academic standing. Normally this consists of 3 learning units in each of Modules I, III, and IV, and 1 unit in Module II. Deficiencies are not recorded on the permanent transcript, but must be made up by an approved substitute plan. Three deficiencies will result in dismissal, subject to appeal. Additional information: Professors design their offerings according to their competencies and interests, free of departmental and disciplinary limitations, and subject to approval by a committee composed of professors, administration and students. Each professor determines the requirements a student must meet to complete satisfactorily any of his offerings, called learning units. Instead of letter or number grades, professors write letters of evaluation, which become part of the student's official record, along with annual or more frequent written evaluations by the student's individual tutor.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 163 U.S. women applied, 93 foreign; 146 U.S. women were accepted, 42 foreign. Admissions requirements: ACT by December, senior year, or SAT by February, senior year. Any 3 ACH by May, senior year. ACH used in advising and placement. High school English, social studies, foreign language, mathematics, science, art, music. Candidates for admission from traditional high school curriculum normally expected to have 16 units in the above, plus music and art history. Students from nontraditional or experimental high schools and students of promise who have not yet completed high school are given equal consideration. Statements made on application and interviews with admissions personnel are significant factors in admissions. Interview strongly recommended. Basis for selection: The college seeks students with inquiring and creative minds who will profit from a liberal arts program in an atmosphere of freedom with responsibility. The Committee on Academic Standing selects students on the basis of ability, interests, academic preparation, character, and promise, as shown by statements on application, school records, test results, personal recommendations, interviews, and any further evidence the student can supply to indicate competence and eagerness to deal with the dynamic liberal arts program at the college. Middle 50% of American applicants accepted for admission had SAT-verbal scores between 417 and 585 and SAT-mathematical scores between 414 and 560. Application fee: $15, may be waived for applicants with great financial need. Application procedures: Closing date for applications April 15 of senior year or until all places are filled, applicants notified of decisions as soon as possible after January 15. CRDA. EDP-S. Transfer applicants: About 35 Americans apply annually, and 25 are accepted. Apply by March 1 for fall term. Credit is given for work comparable to that obtainable at this college. Transfer students must spend 2 years (8 time modules) here in order to be eligible for the bachelor's degree.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 85 women. 55% from Ohio, 98% live on campus, 2% commute, 9% from minority backgrounds. Middle 50% of enrolled U.S. freshmen have SAT-verbal scores between 417 and 600 and SAT-mathematical scores between 410 and 570. Postgraduate studies: 30% of graduates enter graduate or professional programs. Student activities: College governance (students predominate [4 to 1] on the Community Council, which deals with community affairs; students participate, but professors and administrators predominate in the Academic Council, dealing with the academic program), student newspaper, magazine, yearbook, religious organizations (students assist in planning and celebration of non-denominational contemporary worship program, incorporating dance, folk-rock, and jazz as well as traditional music, drama, and modern social concerns into the liturgy), drama, opera or musical theater, dance, mixed chamber choir, Black student group, social service organizations (Y). Athletics: No intercollegiate athletics, but a variety of recreational activities available to both women and men. The college attempts to provide facilities and instruction as requested for both personal and team sports. Student services: Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni. Regulations: All students, except those residing in Oxford and environs, are required to reside on campus. Each residential unit, operating under the policies established by the Community Council, determines the regulations governing its members.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Comprehensive fee: $3,840. Other expenses: $300.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP. 60 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need, all of these were offered aid, and in the full amounts they were estimated to need. Every effort is made to meet the need of each student who has been accepted for admission. Application procedures: Closing date for applications February 1, applicants notified of decisions after March 15, recipients of aid offers must reply by May 1. PCS or FFS required. Transfer students: The college tries to meet the financial needs of transfer students to the extent that funds are available.

450 and 560. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 50%, education 20%, business 7%, agriculture 5%, fine arts 5%, religion 2%, physical education 11%. Postgraduate studies: 60% of graduates enter graduate or professional programs. Student activities: Student government (student senate, judicial board, honor system board, residence council), student newspaper, yearbook, religious organizations (Young Friends, Kelly Board), drama, musical theater, Concerned Black Students, social service organizations (Circle K, Alpha Phi Omega, Valkyrie Club, World University Service), fraternities, sororities. Athletics: Baseball-M, basketball, cross-country-M, football, golf-M, soccer-M, softball-M, squash, tennis-M, track and field-M. Student services: Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni. Regulations: All students permitted to have cars. All students must live in dormitories unless commuting from home. No convocation requirement. Additional information: Students participate in all policy decisions and are responsible for their own governance.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $2,055. Room and board: $1,005. Other expenses: $600.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP. 230 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need, 200 of these were offered aid, 90 of these were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: The first priority is to those students who have demonstrated financial need. For its own funds the college generally requires a student to have need and be in the top two-fifths of his class and have SAT-verbal scores above 475. There is a minority grant program where the academic qualifications are dismissed. There is an honor scholarship program for the top 10 freshmen ($300 per year, need not a factor). Application procedures: Closing date for applications April 30, applicants notified of decisions on a rolling basis, recipients of aid offers must reply 1 month from date of offer. PCS required, in addition to the college's own aid application form. Transfer students: Basically the same procedure. For Wilmington College grants student must have 2.75 cumulative average unless he or she is from a minority group. Preference given to those students who had aid at former institution. Additional information: On a very limited basis the college operates its own work program in the community whereby a student working over 24 hours per week takes a reduced load at less tuition. Students should always look into the possibility of guaranteed loans through their hometown banks.

Lane Community College, Eugene, Oregon

Two-year public comprehensive community college for men and women. Undergraduates: 3,355 men, 2,145 women. Calendar: Quarter, summer session. Location: Small city. Special features: Lane Community College is a two-year, co-educational institution built to serve the 210,000 residents of Lane County and small parts of adjacent Linn, Benton, and Douglas Counties. Founded on October 19, 1964, it offers a comprehensive array of programs in a wide variety of fields. Its 155 acre campus—an ultra-modern $21 million complex at Eugene, Oregon—was dedicated in 1969. The college is accredited by the Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools. Lane's 1970-71 operating budget of $6.5 million was underwritten in the main by tuition and state and federal funds. Approximately one-fourth of the operating expense was raised through local property taxes. The college is directed by a local, elected Board of Education, and is assisted in its planning for the future by 24 advisory committees, made up of more than 250 of the area's community leaders.

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Associate. Fields of study: Agriculture (agriculture economics, food science, landscaping), architecture, art (art history), biological sciences (biology, botany, zoology), business and commerce (accounting, advertising, business management and administration, sales and retailing, secretarial studies), communications (communications, radio and television), computer science and systems analysis (computer science, data processing), education (art, business, child development and nursery, elementary, general, health, home economics, music, physical education, recreation, secondary), engineering (agricultural, chemical, civil, construction and transportation, electrical, industrial and management, mechanical, metallurgical, nuclear technology), English and literature (creative writing, English, literature, speech), ethnic studies (black or Afro-American), foreign languages (French, German, Spanish), forestry and conservation, geography, health and medical professions (dental assisting, dental hygiene, medical assisting, nursing–practical, nursing–registered, pharmacy), history and cultures, home economics (clothing and textiles, family relations, food and nutrition), mathematics (statistics), music (composition and theory, instrumental music, music history, voice), philosophy and religion (philosophy), physical sciences (chemistry, geology, physical sciences, physics), psychology (general), social sciences (anthropology, economics, fire science, police science, political science, social work, sociology), theater arts (dance, drama, theater arts), trade and vocational (automotive maintenance, aviation maintenance, building construction, agricultural and industrial equipment technology, diesel technology, home appliance and refrigeration, electronic engineering technology, environmental technology, flight technology, insurance adjusters, inhalation therapy, machine shop, technical drafting, welding technology). Special programs: Cooperative education, independent study. Programs for students from minorities or low-income families: Special counselor, tutoring, remedial instruction, open-door (may come any time and take any course load). Required freshman courses: English composition, history or social studies, mathematics, physical education, science. Tests used for counseling, placement, or credit: Placement, credit, or both will generally be given for grades of 3 and higher in Advanced Placement Examinations. Credit will generally be given on basis of CLEP General and Subject Examinations. Maximum of 69 semester hours of credit by examination may be counted toward degree. Academic regulations: A student receiving less than a 2.00 grade-point average any term may be placed on academic probation. If a student receives less than a 2.00 for 2 consecutive terms, he is asked to work with a counselor to develop a program in which he will be more apt to succeed. Additional information: As an open door institution, Lane strives to help its students achieve a greater degree of personal development. The primary emphasis is on providing post high school programs designed to meet individual needs. In addition to programs in occupational training and the liberal arts fields, the college provides credit and noncredit opportunities in general and remedial education, counseling and guidance in vocational and educational planning, in adult education and apprenticeship. The college also makes available its facilities and sponsors activities to meet cultural needs of the community. Acclaimed for its highly individualized approach to education, its innovative teaching, its low student/counselor and student/instructor ratios and its modern equipment and facilities, Lane maintains a year round program for more than 17,000 full and part-time students, and employs a full and part-time staff of more than 600.
